

ROSSELL PLANS FOR FEDERAL BUILDING

Mail Service Delivery to Be Extended—Contract Let
For School.

Roswell, N. M., June 9.—Instructions have been sent postmaster A. H. Hocke-fellow by W. S. Taylor, supervising architect in the treasury department at Washington, to have soundings made for the foundations of the proposed federal building in Roswell, on the southwest corner of Richardson avenue and Fourth street. The building is to be three stories high and fireproof. The appropriation has been made by congress and it is believed that these instructions mean that the erection of the building by the government will be commenced shortly.

Advice has been received from the postoffice department that the free delivery service in Roswell is to be extended over considerable additional territory in the west part of town. The department also intends to establish rural free delivery to the farming section adjacent to the town not already supplied.

The contract for Roswell's new high school building has been let to Lyon & Artell for $151,000, the plans having been altered to reduce the cost.

Judge Wm. H. Pope has granted a change of venue to Curry county in the case of Shirley vs. Wells for $20,000 damages.

CLOUDCROFT THE MECCA FOR MANY

Numerous Improvements are Made in Houses—Lodge
Going Up Rapidly.

(By Mrs. W. S. Tilgh.)

Cloudcroft, N. M., June 9.—Every train brings up a few more sojourners for the summer and nearly every family brings a baby to this health giving, piney atmosphere. The baby sanatorium is being loudly discussed but nothing so far has been done, most of the doctors want the sight of the old lodge for the sanatorium and it certainly would be very convenient, but a certain sum of money will have to be raised before the work can be commenced.

The new lodge, the pride and joy of all lovers of Cloudcroft, is well under way. Nature placed a solid foundation of rock right in the exact spot for the hotel, and on top of this the contractor, Frank Powers, has placed a foundation of concrete. The body of the building will be made of concrete and metal lath. It will be two stories high with a look-out tower on top; there will be 51 bedrooms and 10 bath rooms. One half of the rooms will be on suite with bath between. Besides the lobby, where the guests will congregate, there will be a women's parlour, a billiard room with billiard table, a billiard room with billiard table, a billiard room with billiard table.

There will be, besides the main dining room, a cafe where meals can be had at all hours a la carte. A laundry will be one of the features of this new hotel. The building will be finished about Christmas time.

Charles B. Stevens and son came up on yesterday's train and by dark had already made quite a showing in clearing the ground for their new house adjoining the Townsend place.

H. D. Slater, who bought the Galbraith place on the hill, has returned to El Paso after almost making a new house out of the old one. After enlarging the front porch, he built an addition of several rooms, including a bath and now has all the modern improvements of a city home. The house is stained a dark green with rustic finishing and commands a fine view of the White Sands and the pine studded canyon, with all its glorious lights and shadows. It has been named "Cabin Jonima" and there little Johnny Mac reigns supreme and the rest of the family are contented to watch him grow and bloom.

Mrs. Herbert Stevenson and family have moved to their new place, the new house, and have opened up Hillcrest. The doctor is expected soon.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Easter and son also arrived on yesterday's train and Mr. Easter has already done his usual carpenter stunt.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bray have returned to El Paso after spending the week end in their attractive cottage, The Outlook.
